

~Business Leader Award~ The Credits 2018 Nominations

Mohamad Fakih

Mohamad is a Lebanese-Canadian businessman and philanthropist. He started Paramount Fine Foods after arriving to Canada as an immigrant. Today, Paramount Fine Foods has over 80 restaurants across North America. In April 2018, the City of Mississauga announced that the city's sports arena, the Hershey Centre, would be renamed the Paramount Centre. Along with his business skills, Mr. Fakih is dedicated to giving back to the community of Mississauga and he supports multiple causes throughout our city.

Dr. William James

Dr. James founded his company Centre City Capital Limited in 1969. He is deeply connected to the Port Credit community and is no stranger to restoring old buildings. Twenty years ago, Dr. James purchased and renovated the hotel at 15 Stavebank Road South helping to rejuvenate the area when most developers were tearing down old buildings and he brought it back to life as The Waterside Inn. His most recent project was the Port Credit Post Office building that included contemporary additions and a restoration of the heritage façade.
